Carol asked me to send you a copy of the press release we issued with the Beacon report. I can give you some additional background on it if you want.

Attached is the press release and the report. It was released in January 2016.

The press release says the report is just from the BID, but the actual report references CCA in the opening

"In this report, Beacon Economics provides the Central City Association of Los Angeles (CCALA) and the Downtown Center Business Improvement District (DCBID) of Los Angeles with research that outlines economic trends and highlights different performance aspects of the Downtown Los Angeles region."
